

Phase 5: Deliver

Acknowledgements Activity

Gratitude is an important part of the Appreciative mindset and the Appreciative Advising framework. You have just demonstrated the ways in which you can impact the success of a student. Now, take some time to reflect on all of the people and resources that have helped you succeed in your professional life by writing the acknowledgments page of your personal autobiography.